Spofforths Chartered Accountants named as sponsors of the Bowls England Men's Champion of Champions

Bowls England is delighted to announce Spofforths Chartered Accountants as sponsors of the Bowls England Men's Champion of Champions competition.

The event attracts thousands of entrants from across England every year. The final stages will be held at Beach House Park, Worthing, on Sunday 15th August 2010.

Spofforths has a strong relationship with Bowls England and partners at the Worthing office decided to sponsor the competition to highlight the firm's support for events that encourage sport in the community. Business and personal clients will be invited to spectate during the competition.

Tony Allcock MBE, Bowls England Chief Executive, said: "We are delighted that Spofforths Chartered Accountants has agreed to sponsor the Men's Champion of Champions competition and thank them for their support. We have developed a close working relationship with the Spofforths team."

Peter Hussey, Spofforths Staff Partner, added: "This event is unique as it attracts so many visitors to Worthing and it provides a great opportunity to demonstrate what a great community spirit we have in the town. I work with Bowls England and understand that more families and young people are becoming interested in the sport. It is important that bowls events receive support to ensure future success.

"The competition is sure to provide great entertainment and we are looking forward to the final. Spofforths will make a special presentation to the overall Champion of Champions, a great honour".

Spofforths Worthing partners are client-focussed, providing individuals and businesses with advice to see them through the ever changing economic climate. Spofforths offer a friendly and professional service, with a practical and straightforward approach. The firm provides a complete business support service, including audit work, payroll, taxation and all aspects of accounting.

Spofforths also offer a broad range of personal services including financial planning, retirement strategies and tax consultancy.
