

England finished third in the Women's Senior International Series held at Beach House Park, Worthing.

The team started with a loss on the opening morning to Wales but recovered to beat Jersey in the afternoon.

On the second day defeat by Scotland ended England's hopes of retaining the title, but the team finished on a high with victory over Ireland.

The final positions saw Scotland claim the title, with Wales second. Jersey were fourth and Ireland finished last.

Next week sees the men take centre stage at Worthing, with the British Isles Championships on Thursday 1st and Friday 2nd July, followed by the International Series on Saturday 3rd and Sunday 4th July.

Please find attached details from the Championships and Series, including full details on all of England's matches.
